GEORGE HITS AT FISH DINNER Says Newport Will Soon Exhaust Legitimate Satisfactions.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 .- Representative Henry George, Jr. of New York said to-day that he believed the pleasure unters of Newport society would be hunting new attractions just as long as special privileges gave the wealthy of the land such an opportunity to exploit their riches.

Commenting on Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish's butterfly dinner at Newport, which is said to have cost many thousand dollars, he said:

"So long as the existence of special privilege results in an unfair distribution of wealth and an inordinate rash ness on the part of its owners we must expect butterfly dinners, monkey dinners, bunny and all the other kinds of abnormal dances, goose and turkey

"Persons who are not required as esult of special privilege to earn their own bread by the sweat of their own brow, but who are able to appropriate he fruits of other men's labor will, as a natural consequence, soon exhaust the legitimate satisfactions and seek the illegitimate, beginning with the trivial."

Woodrow Wilson to-day in Trenton heard from the West that much of the ill feeling created against him before nomination by the garbling of his views on immigration Entire Summer Colony Repreis being dispelled among the foreign born citizens of that section. He went over the plans of the speakers' bureau with Congressman Albert L. Burleson and then made a speech on the Trenton Fair Grounds to about 500 Democrats which seemed to please his hearers mightily.

The man who brought the word from the West was N. L. Pietrowsky, City Attorney of Chicago, a leader of the Polish speaking section of the city and an ardent Wilson man.

The Governor arose at 6:30 o'clock this morning in New York, caught the o'clock train for Trenton, and never had a minute to himself until he returned home in an automobile after 7 o'clock to-night. He saw about one hundred miscellaneous visitors during the day, sat at a number of commission meetings attended to his gubernatorinl work and then went down to the Trenton fair grounds, where the Mercer county Democrats were holding an outing.

Gov. Wilson warned his hearers that in the one time powerful politico business machine which controlled New Jersey there were Democrats as well as Re publicans, quoting a leader as saying

"they ain't no politics in politics."

In repeating his assertion that he had not made any promises to obtain the Presinot made any promises to obtain the Presidential nomination any more than he had made promises in running for Governor, a man interrupted with the name Jim Smith, alluding to the former United States Senator. The Governor turned squarely to this individual and said emphatically:

"And I never made a promise to him or anybody else."

The Governor will go to the Asbury Park bally parade to-morrow afternoon.
